

Reverence for Life

It's more than a Belief. It's a Practice.

By having a reverence for life, we enter into a spiritual relation with the world. By practicing reverence for life we become good, deep, and alive.

—Albert Schweitzer

Reverence calls us into a place of love, belonging, interconnection, awareness, and gratitude.

But how do we deepen our love and widen our circles of compassion to encompass all beings, and to recognize their inherent worth and dignity?

Join us on this journey of reverence for one another and for all of our companions in Creation.

What You Can Do

Visit www.uuam.org to find out how you and your congregation can participate in the Reverence For Life Program.

And visit us in the Exhibition Hall at General Assembly in Phoenix to discuss and learn more about this opportunity to extend our ethical vision.

Reverence is a form of love that needs to be learned and affirmed. And this is what congregations are for: to teach us to give reverent attention to life. The task given to us here and now is to do what we can to advance reverence for life and deepen the promise of love.

—Rev. Dr. Rebecca Parker, President, Starr King School for the Ministry

Unitarian Universalist Animal Ministry

Bringing Our Principles to Life

Ethics is nothing else than reverence for life.

—Albert Schweitzer