

Life is Beautiful

But it's going extinct...

Rainforests are cut to graze beef.
Oceans are over-fished.
Global warming puts biodiversity at risk.

Did you know that consuming a pound of steak is equivalent to driving 25 miles in your car? That going vegetarian saves three acres of tropical trees annually?

If you eat meat and think you're an environmentalist, think again.

Go Veggie. For Life's Sake.

— UUs for the Ethical Treatment of Animals —

Yes! I want to help UU's for Ethical Treatment of Animals widen the circle of justice to include the rights of all species to a life free from cruelty in a habitable environment. Here is my tax-deductible donation of:
